

Confused by:

- Threats to close down our Government?
- Raising debt limits?
- Fiscal Cliffs?
- Sequestrations?
- Trillion-dollar coins?
- Too-big-to-fail banks?
- Too-big-to-jail Wall Street operators?

You should be confused!

These errors are a result of the horrible mess most economists have made of the world's money systems.

We'll present an educational forum on our money system

FREE MONETARY SEMINAR!

How to Fix our Broken Money System: to Achieve Justice, to Avoid Austerity, to Reduce Debt, to Create Jobs, and to Prosecute the criminal bankers!

Thursday, July 31st, 6:30 PM- 9:00 PM at the Worker's United Hall
333 S. Ashland, next to the Eisenhower Expressway.

The American Monetary Institute (AMI), founded in 1996, proudly announces this free seminar bringing together specialists to discuss how we can solve the economic crisis and answer the key monetary questions of our time.

- Creating new, good-paying jobs that improve the nation's infrastructure
- Providing superior healthcare and education
- Why economists have been worse than useless!
- Prosecuting the criminal financiers.
- Reducing our national debt while maintaining necessary government programs

Stephen Zarlenga - Director and Co-Founder of the AMI, author of The Lost Science of Money and part author of Congressman Kucinich's NEED Act, H.R. 2990, will speak on what is needed for meaningful reform of our money and banking system.

- Steven Walsh - AMI Researcher and Chicago educator, who worked with the 30,000 member Chicago Teachers Union for their endorsement of the Kucinich monetary reform bill, will speak on how to engage with people from all walks of life about the need to reform of our money system.

- Nick Egnatz - Nick Egnatz is a Vietnam vet, actively involved in the "Occupy" movement, and is an important part of monetary reform. He was named "Citizen of the Year" for Northwest Indiana in 2006 for his peace activism by the National Association of Social Workers.

Getting real answers must examine:

- The nature of money as a creature of the law, not a commodity.
- The banks' unwarranted money creation power - much to blame for the current economic crisis.
- Government's constitutional power to create and regulate the money supply to promote the general welfare.

Learn more about money in 2 hours than most economists learn in a lifetime!
